PR: MP 4

Casting Time:

Range: Touch

Remove someone, or something, from a Seal, the effects of an enchantment spell, remove an illusion, or the enchantment of an object with a successful Difficult [-10] INT test vs the original spellcaster's casting test (GM Discretion). You may cast this spell with intent to suppress magic instead of removing it, with the following modifiers and their associated suppression times:

- Challenging [+0] INT test: 1 rd/DoS

Cost: 250 xp

PR: INT 35, MP 1

Name: Glyph of Warding

Cost: 300 xp

PR: MP 3, INT 30

Casting Time: Half Action

Range: 3 yd x lvl

With a successful Challenging [+0] INT test you place a nearly invisible magical trap with a diameter of 1 yd on a surface, such as on the ground, a section of wall, the page of a book, or the lid of a jar. When you cast the spell you decide how the glyph is triggered, such as a stepping on the ground, opening the book, and may also decide what doesn't trigger the glyph, such as speaking a password, or a certain race touching the glyph. A potential target of this spell makes a Difficult [-10] Spellcraft test to recognize the glyph, otherwise doesn't take action against it. When the glyph is triggered, they take [1d10 + ½ MP] per lvl/3 (Min 1d10 + ½ MP), Pen MP.

With MP 5 or higher, you may store another spell inside of the glyph that targets whomever triggers it instead of the damage. You must pass the test to cast that spell after passing the test to cast this one, and decide any details for the effects of that spell. E.g. You select Elemental Blast, and choose to deal Fire damage, or you choose Greater Polymorph and the target is transformed into a frog upon triggering this spell.

You may perform normal attacks and parry with the weapon (if able) as if you were wielding it, except you use your INT in place of MSK or RSK and MP in place of STR bonus for calculating damage rolls. The portals are two-dimensional glowing rings filled with mist, hovering inches from the ground and perpendicular to it at the points you choose. A ring is visible only from one side (your choice), which is the side that functions as a portal.

Any creature or object entering the portal exits from the other portal as if the two were adjacent to each other; passing through a portal from the nonportal side has no effect. Once on each of your turns as a bonus action, you can mentally command it to move up to 15 ft and interact with objects, and perform basic actions that a humanoid servant could do. All Out Attack

Tier: 2 (C)

PR: MSK 30 or RSK 30

Full Round Action

Make a number of Challenging [+0] attacks equal to your MSK Bonus for Melee attacks and RSK Bonus for ranged attacks against up to that many targets or the same target multiple times. The targets may react to any of your attacks like normal.

You may take this talent up to two times (these bonuses stack).

Archmage

Tier: 3 (C)

PR: MP 5, INT 50, WPR 50

Your opponents take an additional -10 on tests made vs your spells.

Assassin Strike

Tier: 2 (C)

PR: AGI 40, Athletics [P]

The character's natural agility and graceful martial forms turn him into a dervish of death on the battlefield. After making a melee attack, a successful Challenging [+0] Athletics Skill Test, or Challenging [+0] Fly Skill test if they have the ability to fly, allows the character to move at half rate as a Free Action. The character's opponent does not receive a free attack resulting from this move. The character may only make this move once per round.

Baleful Dirge

Tier: 2

PR: Intimidate +10

The character can sing an unnatural droning dirge which makes the skin of those nearby crawl and their minds shy away from its discordant notes. Singing the dirge takes some concentration and requires a Half Action each round to maintain. All creatures which can hear the character within a 30 yd radius must make a Challenging [+0] WPR Test or suffer a –10 penalty on their next roll. As long as the dirge is maintained, all those affected by it must test each turn to see if they suffer its effects. Once a creature passes a WPR Test however, it has completely overcome the dirge and is not affected by it for the remainder of the encounter.

Berserk Charge

Tier: 1 (C)

Blind Fighting

Tier: 1 (C)

PR: Per 30

Years of practice and development of other senses allows the character to fight in close combat without the benefit of sight. This talent reduces all penalties for fighting with a melee weapon while suffering from obscured vision by half (rounded up), permitting the character to fight in fog, smoke or darkness more effectively. Note: this talent only improves a character's chance to hit with melee weapons and has no effect on ranged weapon attacks.

Bully

Tier: 1

PR: Intimidate [T]

You are used to ganging up on the weak, throwing cruel insults and demoralizing them. Whenever you have two times as many allies or more as your opponent you gain +10 on Intimidate tests against them, and whenever you have three times or more than them you gain +20 instead.

Catfall

Tier: 1

PR: AGI 35

You automatically reduce the distance of all falls by a number of yards equal to your AGI bonus, ignoring this distance as if it did not exist in regards to fall damage. PR: AGI 40

You gain a number of additional reactions each round equal to your 1/2 AGI Bonus (minimum 1), and may stand up as a Free Action if prone or knocked down.

Note: You may not use these additional reactions to reroll a single test more than once with Features such as Jack of All Trades.

Combat Sense

Tier: 1

The slightest change in conditions or a simple disturbance brings you from sleep to full awareness, remaining alert even in slumber. You are always assumed to be awake, even when asleep, for the purposes of Awareness Tests or surprise. Unfortunately, your sleep is not deep and can be frequently interrupted, resulting in a less-than cheery disposition when awake.

You have mastered this body and its reactions by the practice of meditative techniques, shutting down unnecessary functions that enable you to refresh both body and mind. For every ten minutes you spend calmly reflecting without interruption removes one Level of Fatigue.

Paranoia

Tier: 1

PR: None

You know that danger lurks behind every corner and know the world hits you with everything it has as soon as you let his guard down. You gain a +2 bonus on Initiative rolls, and the GM may secretly test using your Perception to notice hidden threats. The price of this eternal vigilance is a twitchy disposition and the inability to relax.

Permanency

Tier: 3

PR: MP 5, INT 40, WPR 35, K [Arcana] [A]

You can imbue an object with the effects of a spell that would otherwise end, such as a sword with Elemental Blast to grant it additional fire damage, or a stone with Light to make it continuously glow.

Ex:

1. Illusion (Minor or Greater)
 1. Cast an illusion, such as making a cave entrance look like stone covered in vines and moss. It remains until it is dismissed by you, or dispelled by another. Whenever a person perceives your illusion for the first time, or if they would interact with it in a way that could disprove it, such as passing through it, it acts as if you had just cast it (they make the same tests opposed against the roll you made when casting the spell).

Polyglot

Tier: 1

PR: INT 40, CHA 30

You have an innate ability to derive meaning from unknown languages, and can make yourself understood using this intuitive grasp. The character can make untrained Skill Tests with the Linguistics Skill for languages they do not know. Being a Polyglot is not the same as having a true knowledge of a language, and characters must succeed a Linguistics Skill Test (along with the -20 modifier for being untrained) to have more than the most basic conversations or exchanges of ideas.

Power Attack

Tier: 1 (C)

PR: MSK 30, STR 30

You may take a -20 penalty on a melee attack and deal an additional 6 damage if you succeed.

Preternatural Speed

Tier: 3

PR: MSK 40, AGI 50

The character is a swift moving bringer of death; a living, bloody scythe before whom foes fall like wheat before the reaper. When making a Charge Move the character doubles his normal charge movement (i.e. a character with an AGI Bonus of 3 has a charge movement of 15 yards, which is then doubled to 30 yards by the Preternatural Speed Talent).

Quick Draw

Tier: 1 (C)

PR: AGI 30

Draw a weapon as a Swift Action.

Rapid Reload

Tier: 1 (C)

PR: RSK 35, Weapon Proficiency [Bows]

Reduce the time it takes to reload crossbows, or ranged armaments such as Ballista, by one step (Full to Half, Half to Swift, Swift to Free).

Riposte

Tier: 2 (C)

PR: MSK 45, Counterattack, Parry [P]

As part of or in place of a counterattack, you maneuver your foe off balance, and may disarm them (if possible). They cannot take any more actions and are Caught Off Guard until their next turn.

Skill Focus

Tier: 1

Choose a skill you are proficient in. Gain a +5 bonus to tests of the chosen skill. This talent may be taken multiple times, once per each skill.

Skill Focus, Greater

Tier: 2

PR: Skill Focus (Chosen Skill), Chosen Skill [P]

Gain a +10 bonus instead of tests of the chosen skill (replacing the +5 bonus from Skill Focus), and add 1 additional DoS when you pass. This talent may be taken multiple times, once per each qualified skill.

Spell Focus

Tier: 1

PR: MP 2, INT 40, K [Arcana] [P]z

Choose a school of magic. Gain +10 on all tests you make spells of that school.

Spell Focus, Greater

Tier: 2

PR: MP 4, Int 45, Spell Focus [Chosen School], K [Arcana] [P]

Whenever a target makes a test for a spell of the chosen school, including reaction tests to avoid it, you may have them take an additional +10 or -10 on that test.

Note: For example, with spells that apply to an area or multiple targets, you may designate that "all allies gain +10 while all opponents receive -10 on tests they make as part of the effects of this spell".

Spellshot

Tier: 1 (C)

PR: MP 1, RSK 40

Spellshot allows a character with an aptitude for the arcane to enhance their ranged weapons. As a free action, once per round, the character may make a Challenging [+0] WPR Test to increase their ranged weapons damage by DoS until the end of their next turn.

Spell Pierce

Tier: 2

PR: MP 3, Int 40

Opponents you target with your spells take an additional -10 penalty on any CON and WPR tests they make as part of your spells.

Street Fighting

Tier: 1 (C)

PR: MSK 30

The character is adept at close and dirty fighting, favoring small weapons or even his bare hands to take down his foes. When armed with a dagger, knife, similar small weapon, or simply with his bare hands, he adds 1/2 MSK Bonus to any Damage he inflicts.

Subdue

Tier: 1 (C)

PR: MS 30

You receive +20 on MSK tests to Knockout an opponent.

Swift Attack

Tier: 2 (C)

PR: MSK 30

The character's speed with weapons is legendary, allowing him to launch flurries of attacks in melee. When a character makes a melee attack, he scores one hit on the initial Degree of Success on his Weapon Skill Test, plus one additional hit for every additional Degrees of Success. Additional hits are counted as separate hits for all intents and purposes, roll their Damage separately and are reduced by Armor and Toughness as normal. When using Dodge or Parry against a Swift Attack then each Degree of Success scored with a Dodge or Parry Skill Test negates one hit from the Swift Attack.

If a character is fighting with a weapon in either hand or benefits from a Talent or other source which allows him to make more than one attack in his turn only one of his attacks may be a Lightning Attack and have the chance of scoring additional hits. Melee weapons with the Unwieldy Special Quality cannot be used to make Lightning Attacks.

Takedown

Tier: 1 (C)

PR: None

As a Half Action or when making a Charge Attack the character may declare that he is attempting a takedown against an opponent in melee combat. He then rolls to hit (using his MSK) as normal; using any modifiers for weapons and talents (or the +20 bonus from Charging). If the character hits and would have done at least one point of Damage (after reduction for Armor and CON Bonus) it is ignored, but the character's opponent must make a Challenging [+0] CON Test or be stunned for 1 round and knocked prone. In addition, when performing a Stun Action, the character does not suffer a –20 penalty to his MSK.

Traits

Amorphous

- An amorphous creature which has a malleable form, capable of squeezing its body or expanding it. It can change size by 1 step in either direction. Creatures with this trait determine their movement speeds using 1/2 AGI Bonus (rounded up). Amorphous creatures are often missing senses, and so rely on the Unnatural Senses trait to perceive their surroundings.

Amphibious

- Breathe both air and water

Bestial

- A creature with this trait is animalistic, tending to behave instinctively rather than rationally. No matter how high its Int score is, it is still bestial. A creature with this trait never needs to make a Survival Skill Test whilst in its natural habitat. Unless starving or desperate, a bestial creature must make a Willpower Test when frightened, startled or injured. On a failed test, the creature flees.

Blind

- Blind creatures automatically fail all tests based on vision and automatically fail all RSK Tests. Such creatures take a –30 penalty to MSK Tests and most other tests that ordinarily involve or are benefited by vision. Note that this Trait indicates not only that the creature cannot see but that it also has no other senses which would provide the same benefit as eyes. The Blind Fighting Talent reduces the penalties to MSK Tests as normal for Blind creatures, reducing it from –30 to –15.

Brutal Charge (X)

- A creature with this trait deals an extra (X) points of damage per attack when it charges in the same round.

Cat's Luck

- Once per session when this creature would make a Dodge or an AGI Test they may reroll their test and take the better result.

Climb (X)

- Through magic or natural means this creature can climb surfaces with a speed of X.

Crawler

- Worms, serpents, and similar creatures crawl and slither rather than walk. The base move for a creature with this trait is half their normal movement rate (round up) as determined by their AGI Bonus, but they do not take penalties for moving over difficult terrain.

Darkvision

- A creature with this trait sees normally even in areas of total darkness, and never takes a penalty for fighting in areas of dim or no lighting.

Deadly Natural Weapons

- This creature's natural attacks are powerful enough to crush stone or punch through armor. The creature gains all the benefits of the Natural Weapons Trait, except that its attacks no longer have the Primitive Special Quality.

Energy Resistance

- Categories: Acid, Cold, Electricity, Fire
- The creature has a resistance to specific energy types, and takes reduced damage from those sources. Any time the creature would be dealt damage by a spell, weapon, or natural cause (such as falling into freezing water, or being struck by lightning), they reduce the damage taken by 5.

Fear (X)

- A creature with this trait has an unnerving presence. The fear of it always has an associated rating (1–4) to reflect just how awful the creature is to behold and is indicated by the number in parenthesis (X). The higher the Fear Rating the harder it is for others to resist going insane from the frailties and precarious sanity of a mortal mind. It is immune to Fear, Pinning, and magic powers used to cloud, control, or delude its minds.
- Fear Rating: Penalty
 - Disturbing (1): 0
 - Frightening (2): -10
 - Horrifying (3): -20
 - Terrifying (4): -30

Flyer (X)

- A creature with this trait has the natural ability to fly, whether with broad feathery wings, strange magical energies, or inflatable gas sacs. The number in parenthesis (X) indicates its speed when flying. This number replaces the creature's AGI Bonus for movement Actions.

Immune [X]

- A creature with ability is immune to the listed energy or effect, and cannot be damaged or affected by anything of that type, such as a specific energy group, Fear effects, or a chosen school of magic.

Incorporeal

- Incorporeal creatures are insubstantial and weightless, able to pass through solid objects such as walls and weapons. An incorporeal creature gains a +30 bonus on Stealth Tests due to their ability to merge with objects and the fact they make practically no sounds when they move. Incorporeal creatures gain the Hoverer (6) trait. An incorporeal creature is also immune to normal weapons—they simply pass through its body as if it wasn't there. Spells, other incorporeal creatures, and opponents armed with magical weapons may all injure an incorporeal creature normally. An incorporeal creature can't normally affect the mortal world, and thus can't Damage non-incorporeal opponents unless it has a suitable special ability or Talent. Creatures with the Incorporeal trait can Damage other creatures with the Incorporeal trait normally.

(X) Legs

- You have more than two legs. For every pair of legs you have beyond 2, increase your base movement speed by 1 (up to +3 total from this trait).

Monstrous Feature

- The character has one or more of the following: claws, fangs, horns, tails, wings, etc.
- These may grant them Natural Attacks or a special movement speed.

Natural Armor (X)

- This creature has natural armor points equal to X.

Prehensile Tail

- A controllable tail with the ability to dexterously manipulate objects, such as retrieving an item from a pouch, wrapping around a branch, or gently tapping another on their shoulder, and so on.
- Cannot be used to wield a weapon or operate equipment.

Regenerate

- A creature with this trait recovers wounds equal to its CON Bonus at the beginning of its turn, can repair lost limbs if re-attached or grow new ones. For some creatures, this ability is negated when it takes certain types of damage, such as acid or fire.

Swim (X)

- Through magical or natural means this creature can move in water at a speed of X.

Truesight

- Immune to illusions.

Unliving

- This creature is not alive. It does not need to eat, breathe or rest, does not gain LoF, and does not heal naturally.

Vulnerability

- Categories: Damage Type [Bashing, Piercing, Slashing], Elemental [Acid, Cold, Electricity, Fire], etc
- The creature is weak to certain energies and types of damage, and takes 1.5x the damage from attacks of that type.
